For the sixth year in a row, the Northeast Livestock Exposition (NELE) will offer a unique opportunity for livestock producers to market their premier breeding stock and meat animals, as well as providing educational seminars to ensure food safety and quality farm products.

NELE also brings together youth for a weekend-long learning experience as they exhibit livestock and develop related skills and knowledge. The general public is invited to see, learn about, and gain a better understanding of our livestock commodities.

We would like to invite you to join this exciting event by becoming a sponsor, which gives a greater return to the farms participating, enable us to offer an outstanding program for the youth that participate, and provide a greater support system to Maine agriculture.

Please make checks out to Northeast Livestock Expo and mail this form with payment to:
